Renewing your health benefits is as easy as 1-2-3

1. Visit YourTexasBenefits.com, or
2. Send in your renewal by mail or fax, or
3. Call 2-1-1 (select option 2)

Why do I have to renew my CHIP/Medicaid benefits?

You must renew so that Texas Health and Human Services Commission (HHSC) can review your eligibility. It's possible that changes in your life or income may qualify you for a different health care program.

How will I know it's time to renew?

A few months before your Medicaid/CHIP coverage is due to end, HHSC will mail you renewal forms. You may also get an email or text message. You can either complete the paper forms and mail or fax them back to HHSC, or renew your coverage online at YourTexasBenefits.com.

IMPORTANT: If your mailing address has changed, update it at YourTexasBenefits.com or call 2-1-1 (toll-free 877-541-7905) to make sure you receive your renewal forms.

What happens if I don't renew?

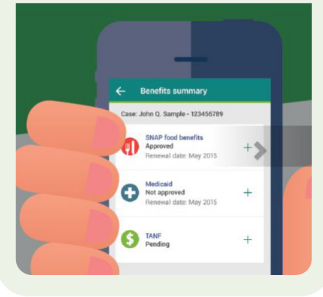

If you do not renew before your deadline, you could lose your Medicaid/CHIP benefits. You must renew your coverage every 12 months. Your renewal date is based on the date your coverage began.

If nothing has changed, and I receive renewal forms in the mail or I'm notified that I need to renew online, do I still need to take action?

Yes, a renewal application still must be filled out and submitted. If you are renewing online and there are no changes, you can click the "No Changes" button on each section during the online renewal process.

What information do I need in order to renew?

When filling out the renewal forms, you may need to provide/verify the following information:

- Bank account statements and pay stubs
- Child support/alimony you get or pay
- Social Security benefits
- Child care or other costs you pay to take care of others

How will I know if my Medicaid/CHIP was successfully renewed?

Log in to your account on YourTexasBenefits.com to check the status of your renewal. HHSC will also mail a confirmation letter to you.

I no longer qualify for Medicaid/CHIP. Do I have other options?

You may qualify for a health plan under the Health Insurance Marketplace® like University Community Care Plan (UCCP), a plan for qualifying Bexar County residents. Learn more at UniversityCommunityCarePlan.com.
